

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

Owing to the destruction of the early records of the town of Newport, it has been impossible to obtain a full account of the descendants of JOHN PITMAN.

The undersigned has collected, from public and private records, the contents of this pamphlet, which it is believed will be interesting to the descendants now living, and enable them to trace their families back to the first settler of the name in Rhode Island.

It is hoped that hereafter some one may continue the work.

CHARLES MYRICK THURSTON.

NEW ROCHELLE, Westchester Co., N. Y., 1868.

the names in this book are taken from the original records as far as possible in 1868

THE NAME IN ENGLAND.

The name PITMAN is said to be derived from residence in vicinity of a pit.

JOHANNES PITEMAN is mentioned in Hundred Rolls, 1273.

A family of PITMAN has been seated at Dunchideock-house, County Devon, for several generations, and is recorded in the parish registers from the year 1552.

GEOFFREY PITMAN was sheriff of Suffolk Co. in 1625.

PITMAN, in Yorkshire pedigrees.

THE NAME IN NEW ENGLAND.

Thomas Pitman, born 1614, settled at Marblehead, Mass.

Mark Pitman, born 1622, settled at Marblehead, Mass.

William Pitman, born 1632, settled at Oyster River, N. H.

Nathaniel Pitman, settled at Salem, Mass., in 1639.

Joseph Pitman, settled at Charlestown, Mass., in 1658.

Jonathan Pitman, settled at Stratford, Conn., in 1681.

A resemblance has been seen in several instances between some of the descendants of JOHN PITMAN, and those of the other families of Pitman in New England. It is possible that HENRY PITMAN, the father of John, may have been a relative of some of the above-named early New England settlers, as New Providence was settled in 1666, by emigrants from England, and from the other colonies in America.

The Bahamas were discovered by Columbus in 1492; first settled by the English in 1629; expelled by the Spaniards in 1641; recolonized by the English in 1666; expelled by the French and Spaniards in 1703. When New Providence was uninhabited, or nearly so, about two hundred heads of white families were settled in Eleuthera and Harbor islands. The islands were formally ceded to the English in 1783.

PITMANS OF RHODE ISLAND.

- 1 HENRY PITMAN¹ was one of the first settlers of Nassau, New Providence, one of the Bahama islands (probably about 1666).

His grand-daughter, MARY DAVENPORT, in her deposition, made February 7, 1763, testified that her grandfather was "one of the first settlers, built a house, planted fruit trees, and made great improvements." "He dwelt there about fifteen years, more or less, and died about the time of fishing for the Plate wreck,* and that his house was burned in the depredations of enemies; all of which she has been told by her parents, who showed her the ruins of her said grandfather's house."

Children:

- 2 I. JOHN, born 1663; died 1711.

- 2 JOHN PITMAN¹ (Henry), married MARY SAUNDERS.

He lived first at Harbor Island, thence he removed to Nassau, New Providence, and settled on and took possession of the tract of land, plantations, and improvements, made by his father. On the 26th January, 1699, he received from

* Plate wreck. Sir William Phipps made an expedition in search of treasure wrecked in a Spanish vessel. He found a wreck at the Bahamas, but the value recovered from it proved insufficient to defray the expense of the voyage. He returned to London in 1684. Afterward he found the treasure near Port de la Plata, Hispaniola, and returned to England in 1687.

Gov. Webb a grant and confirmation of said land.* He built a house near the ruins of that of his father, cultivated and made improvements, erected a ship-yard, and built several vessels; and lived there until the taking and burning of New Providence by the French and Spaniards in July, 1703. His house having been burned, he removed first to Currant Island, thence to Thesa Island, and finally, in 1710, to the colony of Rhode Island, and settled in Newport.

He died Nov. 21, 1711, aged 48 years.—His widow, Mary, died December 1, 1711, aged 45 years.

Children :

- 3 I. John, born at Harbor Island; died single.
- 4 II. Mary, born 1693, at Harbor Island; married Ebenezer Davenport, Feb. 12, 1714.

NASSAU, New Providence.

* John, Earl of Bath, Palatine, the Lord Craven, the Lord Berkeley, Anthony Ashley, George, Lord Carterett, and Sir John Colleton, Baronet, the true and absolute Lords and proprietors of New Providence and the rest of the Bahama Islands, do hereby grant unto JOHN PITMAN a parcel of land to the eastward of the city, containing one hundred and fifty acres, English measure, butting and bounding westerly on the plantation known by Debit's Point; easterly on Susannah Woodfield's plantation; north to the sea; and south on land not taken up. To have and to hold to him, the said JOHN PITMAN, his heirs and assigns, forever, he and they yielding and paying to the said Lords proprietors, their heirs and assigns, a yearly rent of one penny per acre. Provided, further, that the said JOHN PITMAN doth plant and settle the said land within twelve months after date hereof, according as the law has provided in such cases. On default of which, the said land shall return to the Lords proprietors, and be free for the first adventurer. Given under our hand and public seal of this Government, in behalf of the said Lords proprietors, this twenty-sixth day of January, 1698-9.

NICHOLAS WEBB, Governor,
BARTHOLOMEW MESELER, for Lord Ashley,
JOHN LEIGHTON, for Lord Carterett.

Passed the Secretary's office,
EDWARD VAUGHAN, Secretary.

This estate in Nassau was never alienated by the family. After the death, in 1711, of John Pitman, his son, Joseph Pitman, gave a lease of the premises to his uncle, Saunders. After the death of Benjamin Pitman, in 1762, the family united in collecting evidence of their claim to the property, and concluded to send John Pitman, Esq. (the son of Joseph), to New Providence, to recover possession thereof. But it appearing that this John Pitman intended to claim the property for himself, by virtue of the English law of primogeniture, the other members of the family would not consent, and before any definite arrangement could be made, the war of the Revolution commenced, and the estate was lost by the British statute of limitations. A search has been made in Nassau for farther particulars. Their records only go back to 1723, and the name of Pitman does not appear thereon. In a letter, dated New Providence, August 10, 1762, to her dear cousin, Benjamin Pitman, Sen., at Newport, R. I., Martha Light, the daughter of ——— and Jane Saunders, requests a new lease, and states that her brother claims the land.
